

WHY WAIT FOR HIM?

Why wait for someone to buy you a fine piece of jewellery? While couples and men traditionally buy jewellery, more women are gaining confidence to use their taste and independence in purchasing a piece to last a lifetime.

Moi Moi is Australia's first and only jewellery store selling the Moissanite jewels, produced by Charles and Colvard in the USA.

Moissanite jewels have fire, brilliance and lustre and outperform all jewels, including diamond, in these areas, but at a fraction of the price. Popular in Europe, the jewel is becoming available in Australia for the first time.

All Moi Moi jewellery is finely crafted in 18 karat white or yellow gold, or platinum, ensuring the highest quality finishes.

In celebration of love, Moi Moi Fine Jewellery Director, Alana Chang, is currently offering 20 per cent off all earrings, making affordable classic and contemporary fine jewellery even easier to fit into your budget.

A special workshop demonstrating the unique fire and brilliance of the unique, near colourless Moissanite jewel will be held under the centre dome, Level 2 of the QVB on February 17.

Admission is free, but bookings are definitely essential.
