

LOOKING TOUGH

SYDNEY: Effeminate jewellery brand Moi Moi is set to muscle up. The Sydney-headquartered brand, which boasts its own flagship store in the Queen Victoria Building, has just released a new range of accessories for men. Sourced from Italy and dubbed Maschio, it comprises cuff links, rings, bracelets, bangles and pendants priced from $70 to $220. Targeted at "the modern man", Maschio includes 68 pieces in total and fuses stainless steel settings with black rubber, wood, ceramics and gold inlays. Each piece contains hypoallergenic properties, high scratch and dent resistance and is highly resistant to tarnishing.