what we're obsessed with this week

1 BOARD STIFF

Artificial Christmas trees can look tacky and real ones mean pine needles all over the floor, so here's a stylish and eco-friendly alternative. The Cardboard Christmas Tree is made from recycled cardboard and the decoration possibilities are limited only by your imagination. It's about $35 from www.thecardboardtree.com

3 BEST OF BYRON

Byron Bay is home to more than hippies, yuppies and surfies. It also boasts some of the most delectable fine food and produce in the world. Gourmet Byron Bay has put together upmarket Chrissy hampers brimming with everything from award-winning coffee to world-renowned cookies. Visit www.gourmetbyronbay.com or call 02 6680 8034.

2 DIAMOND IDEA

Wake your woman up Christmas morning with a marriage proposal. Bec Hewitt's diamond engagement ring is worth $200,000, but you can get a replica for $4480. Instead of a diamond, this ring features a Moissanite jewel its creators say has more brilliance, fire and lustre than any other stone. Visit www.moimoi.com.au

4 FESTIVE FROCK

This could be just the thing for the family gathering at Christmas dinner. Stylish but not overdone, its Indian-style fabric provides a taste of the exotic. This creation was presented by Oka Diputra on 'mille et une fleurs' during the Fashion Exploration 2009 in Jakarta.
